Developing future leaders with the help of our NextGen Committee

As Partners and leaders within our own firms we have the opportunity to regularly collaborate with our EAI colleagues around the world. The professional relationships that we have established allow us to service our international clients more effectively, and deepen our knowledge of international tax and accounting matters.

From a personal perspective, from our regular interaction, many friendships have developed and today as we work together we recognise the value that our involvement with EAI has brought.

In 2021 EAI started its NextGen Committee with the belief that by bringing together the future leaders of our firms now, we can help develop a network of professionals that will benefit our firms, EAI International, those individuals personally and the accounting and tax industry as a whole.

If you are a Qualified Accountant or Tax Advisor, below Partner level, and would like to begin building your own personal network of international colleagues, please get in touch with us today and register your interest with the NextGen Committee.

About us...

Growth

Our overall worldwide growth in fee income in year to 2022 is 8%, ranking us 18th largest independent accounting association worldwide.

Service lines

Globally we ranked as the 16th global independent association for audit & assurance, 18th for each of accounting, advisory and tax. Our forward thinking member firms are today discussing services lines that go way beyond audit, such as green finance, cybersecurity, forensic investigations, ESG, change management and business transformation.

Our people

We ranked as the 16th largest association in Europe when considering the size of our team, 18th in North America and Asia Pacific, 17th in the Middle East and 11th in Latin America and Africa.

1,937 professionals, 283 partners and 359 admin staff results in one large, happy family.

Connecting Audit, Accounting and Tax professionals globally since 1986.
